1. How To Use This Guide

This is only a GUIDE designed to support applicants. All applicants must follow the requirements listed in the Federal Funding Notice. If you have specific questions, reach out to oar.sg.fellows@noaa.gov.

This guide is meant to be a resource, in addition to the Federal Funding Notice, for students interested in the 2026 Sea Grant Knauss Fellowship program. There are aspects of this guide that outline REQUIRED elements for the student for the successful submission of a Knauss application, while other sections are focused on tips and best practices. The document breaks down each section of the application process and provides answers to frequently asked questions, a breakdown of what is expected in each section, and how the section will be reviewed including a few tips. Students should review these materials as well as reach out to the state Sea Grant program through which they are applying to learn more about the process.

Each section contains the following elements, as appropriate:

- Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs): Questions and Answers of questions that the NSGO receives from prospective students.
- Notes: Information and specific details about the section of the application. These notes should be followed strictly.
- Tips: Recommendations for strengthening the section of the application.
- Questions/Instructions: The specific questions the student should address in the section of the application materials.
- Score Scale: The scoring breakdown for that specific section.
- Criteria: The details of how the reviewers will evaluate the section.

Acronyms

NSGO--National Sea Grant Office

2. Eligibility

Any student, regardless of citizenship, is eligible to submit to this opportunity if:

1. The student is enrolled towards a degree in a graduate program at any point between the onset of the 2024 Fall Term (quarter, trimester, semester, etc.) and February 19, 2025;
2. The graduate degree will be awarded through an accredited institution of higher education in the United States or U.S. Territories, and;
3. The student has an interest in ocean, coastal, and Great Lakes resources and in the national policy decisions affecting those resources.

Other Considerations

- The one year fellowship will take place in the National Capital Region. Applicants must be prepared to relocate to the Washington, D.C. area. Non-U.S. citizens are responsible for obtaining the appropriate visa to allow them to work in the Washington, D.C. area during the fellowship period.
- Foreign nationals and dual citizens please note: while this fellowship is open to all eligible students regardless of nationality, a significant number of participating federal host offices are unable to accept foreign nationals or dual citizens as fellows. This may reduce the number of placement opportunities available to foreign nationals/dual citizens. Foreign nationals/dual citizens are eligible for both the Executive and Legislative cohort.
- Applicants must be able to pass a federal background security check.
 - NOTE: most positions require a public trust clearance, some require a secret clearance. You will be asked detailed questions about personal history. An example of a security background form can be found HERE.
- Prior contact/arrangements made with possible host offices before the start of the placement week will be cause for immediate disqualification from the process.
- Applicants that have been accepted as national finalists and/or become fellows are not eligible to apply again without the written permission of the NSGO Fellowships Manager, which will only be granted in response to exceptional life events. A national finalist is defined as an applicant who goes through the review process and is selected at the national level for the fellowship program. Applicants are considered finalists until they are paired with a host office during the placement process.

The National Sea Grant College Program champions working to create a marine science workforce that reflects the communities we serve. We are recruiting, retaining, and preparing a dynamic workforce, and proactively engaging and serving the populations of coastal communities. Sea Grant is committed to building research, extension, communication, and education programs that serve people with unique backgrounds, circumstances, needs, perspectives, and ways of thinking.

Special Note: Foreign Nationals, Dual Citizens and permanent residents, please note, you are eligible, however, there are restrictions during the fellowship.

- There are SIGNIFICANT limitations for Foreign Nationals - including, but not limited to, reduced position availability (as much as a 50% reduction in positions), heavy restrictions on security access which may mean limited access to federal networks and daily escorting throughout all federal facilities (FN must be in the line of sight of a federal employee at all times). Finally FN are NOT eligible for direct hire.
- There are limitations for Dual Citizens and permanent residents - including reduced position availability (as much as a 30% reduction in positions)

FAQs About Eligibility

QUESTION: I am a foreign national, am I eligible for the Knauss Program?

ANSWER: Yes! You are eligible for both the executive and legislative branches of the fellowship. For both, there may be restrictions on which offices are able to host a Foreign National.

QUESTION: I would like to defer my selection as a Knauss Fellow for a year, is that possible?

ANSWER: Applicants who are selected to be National Level Finalists are not able to defer their placements. As a Knauss Fellow you are expected to begin your fellowship on February 1 of the respective year.

*NOTE: This may vary by individual state Sea Grant program. We encourage all applicants to discuss the details of the award with their state sea grant program at the time of application

These funds are not guaranteed and vary depending on host office placement.

5. Where To Apply

The student should apply through the state Sea Grant program where they are currently enrolled in school. If the student is enrolled in a university that is not represented by a Sea Grant program they should contact the National Sea Grant Office (oar.sg.fellows@noaa.gov) to be assigned a program.

FAQs on Where to Apply

QUESTION: I am a resident of a different state than the state that my school is located in, should I apply to the program in the state where I am a resident?

ANSWER: No, the student should apply through the state in which their university is located.

QUESTION: My research focuses on a different state/region than my university is based, should I apply to the state where my research is focused?

ANSWER: No, the student should apply through the State Sea Grant Program your university is located.

QUESTION: What if my state has more than one Sea Grant program, which program should I apply to?

ANSWER: Either program. We encourage you to reach out to the one you are already familiar with to apply. If you are not familiar with either program, reach out to them both and decide which is a better fit for you.

Optional Demographics Form (OMB Control No. 0648-0568)

Through the Sea Grant Knauss Fellowship we strive to provide an educational and employment opportunity for current and recent graduate students interested in ocean, coastal and Great Lakes resources and the national policy decisions affecting those resources.

Students have the option to provide demographic information via this OMB approved FORM. The information and associated background information of graduate students, as well as recent graduates, which may be used for the purpose of tracking scholarship recipients' academic progress, making annual financial awards, and tracking graduate studies and career progress. This information will not be used to determine program eligibility. Data will be confidential and not part of the review process.

NOTE: It is incumbent on the Sea Grant program to validate eligibility. A state program may request Transcripts and if applicable, an out of State Letter. These materials are not to be used for scoring purposes.

7. Programmatic Considerations

Participation in the Knauss fellowship is a privilege not a right. The year will ultimately be what a fellow makes of it and chooses to learn from it. Fellows should expect growing pains—new offices, new people, new places. How a fellow approaches, grows and learns from these challenges is up to the fellow and can make or break a fellowship experience. While we hope and anticipate that everyone feels fulfilled and leaves the fellowship having a positive experience, learning that policy, the federal government process, a desk job or style of leadership is not for you, is also beneficial! The Knauss program is an extension of a fellow’s education. Approaching the year with an open mind and a chance to learn about yourself and the breadth of the federal government will take a fellow far!

Applicants should consider the below information prior to application:

- The Knauss Fellowship is a DC based fellowship. All selected fellows must have the ability to move to the DC region. Some offices do allow telework, however, this is not a guarantee, rather a privilege.
- Most positions require a public trust clearance, some require a secret clearance. Fellows will be asked detailed questions about personal history. An example of a security background form can be found HERE. Please note, that federal laws superseded state laws.
- The Knauss Fellowship is an extension of a student’s education. The program expects participants to participate in a professional development program as well as complete all mandatory reporting requirements.
- The Direct Hire is a PERK of the program. Receiving the Direct Hire Authority is incumbent on the successful completion of the fellowship - which includes, but is not limited to, completing 10 full months of the program, maintaining good standing with the host office and the participation in programmatic professional development activities.
- The Knauss Fellowship is administered through the state program, all student applicants should be made aware of the anticipated salary, benefits, etc. that the program will be providing.
- Having access to materials from previous Knauss applications can be useful, however, students should refrain from copying materials directly. Shared application materials can be a useful reference. The NSGO recommends that students have coaching sessions or conversations with previous fellows, rather than relying on materials alone.
